Product Information

1. Concept

Porsche Exclusive has a long tradition of implementing strictly limited vehicle projects. Right from the start, personalization from the factory has always been of great importance at Porsche. Likewise, from the very first moment, every Porsche developed has had characteristic motor sports genes. In particular, endurance races have enjoyed a long tradition and are a special part of the Porsche success story. The 911 Carrera S Endurance Racing Edition now combines “Porsche Exclusive” and “Porsche Motorsports” in an exclusive edition.

The experts at Porsche Exclusive have collaborated with Style Porsche to create a holistic concept that projects the current design of the motorsports race cars onto the latest 911 Carrera S generation. The result is a “911 street model” in motorsports design directly from the factory. Supplemented by the maximum possible performance-oriented equipment, this vehicle project demonstrates just what Porsche stands for: The genes and findings from motor racing are consistently applied to our production vehicles.

To match the striking exterior design, the interior also features numerous special features. The exclusive edition will be limited to a total volume of 235 units in Europe and North America.

After assembly on the production line, all vehicles are finished at the Porsche Exclusive Manufaktur in Zuffenhausen, giving them their individual finishing touches.

Combined with exclusive equipment and high-quality finish from the Porsche Exclusive Manufaktur, the holistic design concept clearly demonstrates what Porsche Exclusive stands for: Individualism, passion for detail, craftsmanship and tradition.

Porsche Motorsports

The motorsports spirit is part of every Porsche. Throughout the company's history, motor racing has always been the driving force behind vehicle development. The very first Porsche celebrated victories in various races. This tradition gave rise to the principle of an intensive bond between motorsports and series production. What we learn from the race track has significantly influenced the development of our Porsche standard-production vehicles for over 65 years and continues to do so to this day. This is the spirit that is part of every Porsche.

Porsche is regarded as an undisputed record winner at Le Mans in the world's most famous endurance race. In 1951, a great and extremely successful tradition began with the first participation of Porsche in the Le Mans 24 hour race. After an absence of fifteen years, Porsche returned to Le Mans in 2014 and, following a successful premier season, was able to consolidate its status as record winner with the 17th overall win in 2015.

Porsche Motorsports Impressions

2. Design and highlights

Exterior

The exterior of the 911 Carrera S Endurance Racing Edition is a celebration of motorsports design. The choice of available exterior colours already borrows from Porsche's racing stable. There is a choice between three solid colour tones: Black, White and Guards Red.

The guiding principle of "Porsche Intelligent Performance" can be seen in every detail, from the hood and roof to the rear lid. The colour gradient changes from white to an increasingly dark grey tone, ending in three black stripes on the rear lid. This design is based on the racing cars from the Porsche Motorsports Department. This edition is permitted to carry the exclusive "Porsche Intelligent Performance" core brand, which is otherwise reserved for the works racing cars.

The side view features a dynamic design with two striking stripes which run towards the rear wing in a chequered pattern. In the case of the White and Guards Red exterior colours, the decorative decal set on the sides is in Black. A grey tone is used on the black vehicle to achieve the same contrast. This emphasizes the sporty contours of the 911.

This decorative decal set is available exclusively ex factory and is a first for this edition. To secure the supply of spare parts for the edition and to maintain an exclusive distance, the decorative decal set will be available via Porsche Tequipment from 01/2018 onwards.

Exterior

The vehicle's sporty appearance is ideally complemented by selected accents in Black (high-gloss). The 20-inch Carrera S wheels are painted Black (high-gloss), lending the vehicle a sporty appearance in all exterior colours. This is matched by the Porsche logo and model designation on the rear end in the same colour. Likewise, the upper parts of the SportDesign exterior mirrors are finished in Black (high-gloss) as standard. The black LED headlights are the perfect complement to the design.

Together with the maximum performance-oriented equipment, this enhancement produces a harmonious overall concept that lends the vehicle a particularly sporty appearance. The sports exhaust system, the rear axle steering and the 20 mm lower PASM sports chassis including PDCC as standard are also featured, for example.

The final touch is a specific Indoor-Car-Cover in the edition design. This picks up on the "Porsche Intelligent Performance" design and carries the "911 Carrera S Endurance Racing Edition" logo on the side.

Interior

The motorsports character of the exterior design continues in the interior. The well-planned combination of existing equipment options from the Porsche Exclusive Programme establishes a high-grade starting point for further personalization. For example, the red seat belts and the Carbon interior package offer the driver sporty surroundings. To match the colour scheme, the floor mats are in carbon with red leather edging. The standard leather interior with embossed Porsche Crest on the headrests rounds off the interior design.

This basic equipment is further upgraded by features implemented exclusively for this edition. As soon as the doors are opened, the illuminated door sill guards in carbon with the “911 Carrera S Endurance Racing Edition” logo in white and red show that this is a very special vehicle. The GT sports steering wheel features the 12-o’clock marking in red leather familiar from motor sports. The dashboard trim also features the “911 Carrera S Endurance Racing Edition” logo.

The key message from the exterior is repeated on the embossed armrest of the centre console: “Porsche Intelligent Performance”. The depth of the embossing decreases towards the back and the stripes fade away, echoing the colour gradient of the exterior decorative decal set.
