

At Porsche your health and safety are our first priority, especially in these unprecedented times. We are committed to continuing to deliver first class service with a heightened focus on safety. We also want to ensure that your vehicle is operating at peak performance and up to the latest production specifications.

Our records indicate that your vehicle is affected by Porsche campaign WLA4. Porsche has discovered that foreign bodies (e.g. cleaning cloths) can touch hot exhaust system components while driving, causing them to ignite and increasing the risk of fire. To prevent this from happening, an additional heat shield will be installed on your vehicle. This will help to prevent any foreign bodies or materials from coming into contact with exhaust-carrying or hot components in the engine compartment.

As we prioritize everyone's health and safety, we want you to know that our Porsche Centres are taking all the essential steps to perform contactless service and now includes new safety protocols with vehicle sanitization. They are open to serve you and are adapting to the current situation in order to safeguard employees and customers well-being.

To book your service appointment, simply click the link below and one of our Porsche Service Advisors will be in touch to coordinate your service.

It's just one less thing to worry about with Porsche At Your Service.
